The 2011 World Cinema Documentary Audience Award winner @ the prestigious Sundance Film Festival.

'Senna', which took the Audience Award with 11 other films in competition, tells the story of the late Formula 1 driver, Ayrton Senna, through archival footage of his life on and off the racetrack. Much of this film is archival footage that has never before been released. At the final showing at Sundance, many critics, including The Los Angeles Times and Hollywood Reporter, were full of praise. In two previous releases, in Japan and Brazil, both fans and newcomers to Senna and Formula 1 have found the film to be brilliant, a fitting tribute to the man so many admire on both sides of the pit wall.
